

Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central

As an entrepreneur, you have probably heard of an ERP system. An ERP system such as Business Central supports all your business processes. The system allows you and your employees to work more efficiently, and you can make better decisions, allowing your organization to grow further.

With Business Central, you increase financial visibility, optimize your supply chain, boost sales, improve service delivery, and keep projects on schedule and budget. Thanks to the online environment, you can achieve the same user experience everywhere and take things with you on the go with a recognizable, user-friendly, and intuitive way of working on Windows, Android, or iOS devices for mobile access to Business Central.

NAV 2018 vs. Business Central

Business Central is the successor to what was previously known as Dynamics NAV. Both systems generally fulfill the same functionalities. The big difference is that Business Central is entirely cloud-based. As a result, your system is constantly provided with updates. Besides, BC is now easier to interpret for small businesses, mainly due to the lower costs and the easy way Business Central knows how to grow with your business.

Voordelen van Dynamics 365 Business Central

Business Central has already been embraced by many small and medium-sized organizations worldwide. Below you can read the essential benefits that BC brings.

Work more efficiently

Business Central is the ERP solution that ensures that your company's various applications are effectively linked with each other. The software ensures precise operation, providing a 360-degree total overview of all your intricate details. This way, you can make better and faster decisions.

1,562,000 worldwide users

Safe and secure in the cloud

Business Central is available as software in the cloud. You can consult your software anywhere and with any device via the internet. The software in the cloud is a simple solution to avoid mandatory updates. Business Central automatically receives updates based on the latest techniques, standards, and legislation. Besides, you have 98% less unplanned downtime by using the cloud.

40% improvement in finances

Expand functions easily

One of Business Central's essential advantages is that you can expand the system according to your wishes. Do you need a specific additional function? You only have to download an app via the AppSource. Besides, you can easily add users in the new system to only pay for employees who use Business Central.

Additional functionalities

Business Central is a SaaS solution, which means that you decide for yourself what you need. This means that you are not unnecessarily stuck with things that you do not use. Partners and specialists worldwide develop various functionalities that they offer in an extension that you can use in combination with the standard Business Central application. These extensions are easy to download from the AppSource. In principle, you can purchase an app without first consulting with your service partner, although this is always recommended. Bluace has all the necessary knowledge of the apps and ensures that your environment continues to work correctly.

We are Bluace

Bluace offers total solutions to administer and optimize all business processes. "Software should support business processes, no more, no less" is what our consultants regularly say. We advise how software can seamlessly connect to current work processes and are happy to help you organize your business processes more efficiently. We believe that it is essential to keep control of your software and get to know the possibilities. Do you have any questions, or would you like more information? Please feel free to contact us.